
Alpha Version Now Available

Posted by TRIPLE M - 2007/07/04 09:47

Well, since no one cares about the new updates I've made to my posts. I thought I could write a whole new one. All I wanted to say that I've my Alpha Version of the FireBoard Arabic Language File released few days ago. In my Alpha release, The frontend has been completely translated into Arabic otherwise, I'm still working on the backend and the administration interface. All you have to do is just follow the next steps,

01. Download the the zipped Arabic file below

<http://www.triplem.host.sk/joomla/fb/arabic.zip>

02. Extract it and upload the arabic.php file to your FireBoard language directory,

For Example;

http://www.yourwebsite.com/joomla/administrator/components/com_fireboard/language/

03. The Arabic language file is going to be automatically selected if Arabic is your Joomla's default language

Then its done, Tell me what you think

Brothers, Assalamu Alaikum Warahmat Ullahi Wabarakatuh.

Firstly I would like to thank TRIPLE M on his effort for translating FireBoard.:kiss:

Secondly is there another version of Arabic file with char encoding (windows-1256) instead of (utf-8)?

Because I use the first encoding in our joomla site so I have problem displaying FB in the site !!! Any other solution?

Manhaj ... I noticed in your site that you use FB fine with the site character encoding is (windows-1256):unsure: how did you do it?

well, Its actually easy instead of saving it as UTF-8 file save it as a ANSI I think it may work. otherwise you may need to change the character encoding for both Joomla Language file and FB language file into UTF-8 to fit your need.

Tell me if it works with you thank you very much for the translation.

I'd really appreciate it if someone made a template to be right to left so that it goes with the Arabic language.
