How to install (for newbie :lol: ):

1. Install this modul by logged in as admin from Joomla Backend.

2. You should create position fb_1: Joomla-->Site-->template Manager-->Module Positions, at Position column you can write down fb_1.

3. active mod_fb_multi_login by publish it and assign position as fb_1.

*. Need help?.

You can show logout information or not (optional for you).

Have fun!

Updated & corrected on 9 August 2007:

mod\_fb\_multi\_login.zip

Now you can turn on/off registration.

try this. it's all div, so style in template css. PM works with missus and primezilla (if you use the hack). doesn't work with community builder.

it's hacked together for one of my sites, so no guarantees...

@Viet4777

regarding your PM, the features I would like are:-

---

A login module that looks similar to flex login module (joomlashack)
http://www.joomlashack.com/community/index.php/Itemid,146/topic,3064.msg12500

Displays an Avatar,
Displays My Profile
Displays latest posts,
Displays my PM messges (i.e. Clexus ect...)
Logout

The reason I have mentioned Joomlashacks Flexible login module is that you can edit it how toy like i.e. horizontally, vertically ect..

another feature that would be nice is the ability to add an background colour any colour of choice

Thanks
Danny

if you want to see avatars in module from "sebasvos" , you have to define your own way to avatars, so if i suggest u use generic install path, edit lines 96-105 in mod_fb_flex_login to generic path like :

$jr_avatar = ' path to avatar file ' ;
//$jr_avatar = ' path to avatar file ' ;

else
$jr_avatar = ' no photo path to pic ' ;
//$jr_aprihlvatar = ' no photo path to pic ' ;

and here is some basic css styling if you want to make it horizontal : letss suggest you use 100x100 default avatar :

#fb-avator.loginelement {width:100px; float:left}
#name.loginelement {width:100%; font-size:12px; margin-bottom:5px;}
#links.loginelement {float:left;}
#links.loginelement a {color:#000;}
#links.loginelement a:hover {color:#666;}

..but please, solve that PM issues... :cheer:

for primezilla add this to $private_msg path and it will work &page=inbox&Itemid=

Re:Joomla mod_fb_multi_login for FB 1.x.x - very n

again, this is something i hacked together from bits of profilebox.php and the joomla modules of primezilla and missus, i didn't really have the time to make it 'primetime-ready'. it works for my site, may not for yours, but it's pretty flexible in it's styling.

didn't have time to test everything, but i think it doesn't work if you don't have missus installed, because it calls a function from a non-existent file. if it doesn't, just delete that bit.

the current avatars link is for 1.0.2RC2, because i'm testing that one right now, the commented line is for 1.0.1. just change the comments around and it will work on 1.0.1.

I don't have the time to really integrate all PM notifiers, and I don't have access to clexus, but you can probably just copy and paste some code around from others systems. for missus and primezilla, I just copied over the relevant code from their respective frontpage modules.

I posted this because Danny seemed desperate to get a module with these features, and since you can't PM files, I posted it here. if you would like to improve on this module, please do.

one annoying thing I can't get rid of is an error about access privileges when you immediately click show latest posts after login. seems you have to enter the forums for it to work, but after that, all is well. the other 'recent posts' modules from this site do the same thing, so it's probably not something I can fix, but is a Fireboard thing.
