Hey Guys,

For some reason, even if I was to remove the login module, my fourm stays the same size... how can I make it wider?

I'm not sure how you template is built underneath but from what I can test is that you will need to increase the width in .left in the CSS.

Example:

```
.left{ float:left;
    width:900px;
}
```

You would want to only increase it if there is no right side. If you get stuck I can help in more detail.
