Foreach() problems indicate part of the database did not get updated properly. Make sure you have run all of the necessary SQL statements from the Upgrades folder and they executed without any errors.

I did nothing but uninstall the old forum and install the new one through Joomla. I know nothing about databases...

I read it. tried every line of the SQL update on its own... Got errors on every passage...
But the error messages on the frontend are remaining.
Before I got FB 1.0.0 no patch applied.

Any idea?

Thanks for our help

Sorry I am very new to the whole forum thing - I installed the old version a few weeks ago, and then uninstalled it and installed this new version, but keep getting all sorts of errors such as:

Warning: Invalid argument supplied for foreach() in /home/nzbead/public_html/components/com_fireboard/template/default/fb_pathway.php on line 139

I have never connected to my site via FTP... is there an easier way to fix the problem?

Same question. Is there a way to execute these SQL scripts without having access to the MySQL admin area?

I have FTP access if that helps...

I get error messages for every single SQL query also. I tried to upgrade to 1.0.3. I got everything to work, it shows all my categories and everything in the administration, but my forum has none of threads. I checked my database, because I thought I lost info, but it still has everything in phpmyadmin. I thought it was because of the patch, so I changed back to my "backup" and there is still nothing showing in my forums. Any ideas?

Okay, the problem was my configuration showed that i was using 1.0.0. Out of curiosity I ran all the SQL queries for the upgrate from 1.0.1 and everything works great now.

The component described in the link there doesn't do anything differently than phpmyadmin, so I still got the same messages. Just in case anyone else hasn't tried that component yet...

I used that because I don't have access to phpmyadmin, and I don't have a clue about sql

Well, I have install Fireboard 1.0.4 from the scratch and I still have this error, and the problem is that this download doesn't have a directory called upgrades or something, therefore there isn't any sql scripts, at least I haven't found any, I get this error when I go to the Rank Management and I try to change thoses rank names, it says that a parameter is missing. There isn't anything on the rank images form, could be it? Anyway, this is the error:

Warning: Invalid argument supplied for foreach() in /www/fatfreehost.com/o/r/i/orion/htdocs/cms/administrator/components/com_fireboard/admin.fireboard.php on line 2176 could anyone help me?

Sushi,
I had the same problem you had:

Warning: Invalid argument supplied for foreach() in/administrator/components/com_fireboard/admin.fireboard.php on line 2176

And I found a clue in an Indonesian forum. I found a solution after that, here it goes:

1. I assume you changed your language file in Fireboard
2. All you need to do is rename the folder: /components/com_fireboard/template/default/images/english to /components/com_fireboard/template/default/images/yourlanguage (as it is in your language php file)

Hope it helps you too.

I have 1.0.4, I am using the default english language file. I get the error fb_pathway.php on line 140 when viewing replies, or replying. There was no update folder for 1.0.4 so I have no db files to upgrade with. is there a solution? The ones mentioned didnt work.

I fixed it using the upgrade sql (Fireboard_100_to_1.0.3.Stable.sql) from the 1.0.3 package, after running that, all seems well (Knocks on wood)
