
Tables messed up?

Posted by Kaeon - 2007/09/11 02:07

I just installed fire board. And when I go to my message board without being logged in first the tables cover the whole screen. Any idea how to fix it?

Funny. It won't open in FF. What template/version are you using?

It opens in my firefox. I'm using 1.0.0 and the dark red theme.

1.0.0 templates will not work on any version of Fireboard greater than 1.0.0. They are not compatible. The version of your template and the version of Fireboard should match.

I just assumed you installed the stable version and not the oldest beta (since I don't see why one would do such a thing). Does that happen on the default template?

I'd upgrade to the stable version.

The skin matched the site pretty good so I figured I'd just give it a try with 1.0.0, I guess I will update it...
