Devs... Need input - where to post solutions?

I have solved a few things on my own personal board, where can I submit them for review?

I have posted one solution here, but the post just fell out of view without any response from the Devs. I really don't want to take the time to detail a solution on a forum unless it is being payed attention by someone, otherwise its wasted time.... Also, now I am tracking a list of resolutions for problems in my own board that I am going to have to filter through any new releases to add back in again.

Please tell me how I can help this group without wasting my own time :)

Thanks,

GRAM
