
Has anyone noticed anchor issue with IE?

Posted by vsailer - 2007/09/28 17:35

Hi all,

I have done a new install of both Joomla (1.0.13) and 1.0.3 stable Fireboard.

It's working out very nicely, but I have been working out a few things with users, and one is that the "show most recent message" arrow is not working correctly as an anchor and just brings you to the top of the thread page. Since we don't have any threads that span two pages I can't tell you if it will jump to the correct page, but this has got one of the admins a little upset, since he uses IE.

This is not a problem with Firefox, or on the Mac platform with Firefox or Safari, or on the Linux platform with Firefox.

That's all the testing I've tried so far, but it seems to be isolated to Explorer.

Any ideas?

Thanks,

V

NOBODY tests or runs the forum on IE?

NOBODY else is either having or not having this issue?

C'mon people, a little feedback would let me know if this is a singular problem.

Thank you.
