
Poll

Posted by Thoeri - 2007/04/24 23:47

Hi

I would like to see a poll function like in SMF and some other forums. That any member can put a poll to a thread. That is excellent for getting peoples opion on stuff.

/Thoeri

PS. Thanks for an awesome plug-in. One of the best for Joomla.

Hi

I also think phpBB has this feature.

Re:Poll

Posted by LocaliceR - 2007/04/26 21:59

The poll feature is an accessory for a professional forum and I am sure sooner or later it'll be implemented.

I would like to poll the members of this forum and see how many would like to see a poll feature added. However, there is no poll feature to do this with. :P

Re:Poll

Yes yes... poll function should be added, but I think the developers should give more priority in building a stable smf to fb converter... we smf users are dieing for it.

Re:Poll

With iosoft abandoning his project, when oh when will we ever get a poll systems? pisdoktor had all but finished a poll feature that was promised to be released in 1.0.3 and then it just fell off the radar with no word about what happened or why it wasn't included. I pm'd pidoktor about it a couple of weeks ago and have never received a response. I can only surmise that he fell off the radar as well. Is there a dev out there that can shed some light or at least give us a little hope for a future poll feature?

Re:Poll

Posted by iosoft - 2007/10/14 06:08

Well, now I understand why pisdoktor couldn't complete the project..... its not that he is ill or too busy... its the FB's Core-Team :angry:

Re:Poll

But pisdoktor is ON the Core Team!

I'm adding my voice to the poll request.

I'm SO disappointed that losoft's poll has come so far, only to be discarded. It would truly have been a lovely addition. I wish those with the skills to resolve this problem would give it a go---the poll system tested so very well, surely there must be a way to either include it in the next release, or find a way to truly make it an add-on that doesn't require any modification of the core code.

In the meantime you can use PollXT, rely on the bot tags to show the poll (and the poll results) in the first post. A little crude, but it works :)

Incredibly crude, and it really doesn't work for my users. Voting in a poll in the forum using the PollXT bot results in being bounced to the front page of the forum---it looks like an error to users. They have to hunt down the poll thread again. Mostly, they just end up confused.

Re:Poll

Hi,

So I am trying to figure out this mess, Joomla has a Poll module, Fireboard pretty much has nothing. How hard would it be to wrap the Poll module inside a post in terms of code integration?

Or would it be easier to hijack phpBB's poll system and jimmy it into Fireboard?

Thanks
Darragh

I think you can work around that by putting the thread URL as the exit URL for the poll config. The only time it won't work is if the user's already voted and tried to go there again (in which case they end up on "results").
