Hm strange. I assume you upgraded from 1.0.3 to 1.0.4

My production website went through the very same upgrade and all the quote boxes are there, even with the new fancy 'double head logo' - not sure I care that much for it B)

Could you provide a link and as much detailed info about your environment as possible?

Thx!

I have been able to reproduce the issue. Its on the main 1.0.4 upgrade thread. I will look into it tomorrow.

^^@fxstein, yes you are correct.. i have upgraded from an existing forum with fb1.0.3 to the latest fb1.0.4.. btw.. i've also patched up my database with sql fix you released for the legacy html tags.. thanks for that..

here i have managed a screenshot.. even after executing the sql patch.. still the same for the quotes with no borders.. and also for the emoticons inside the quotes.. i think they are not parsed.. http://i115.photobucket.com/albums/n292/bytebandit01/joomla/fb/fb_bug.jpg

I believe we found that problem. has nothing todo with the sql upgrade - only with the template. Working on a different issue right now but will check into this soon.

As for the parsing inside a quote: We fixed that yesterday in SVN. Was a bug in the new bbCode parser.

For me, it is using the quote style from my joomla template around fireboard quotes. It never used to do that...

That's a CSS issue then. You can check the Graphics & Templates forums for stickies that can help you adjust the look and feels of your Fireboard templates.

replace the file interpreter.fireboard.inc.php in /components/com_fireboard/sources

Thanks very much Racoon.

This has fixed my problem right up, and had I come along 30 minutes later would have avoided some smart-arsed comments and ego coming from one of the moderators on this site in another thread.

You know I may have/do come off as smart-arsed but I never resorted to outright name calling as you have. As I already stated, I tried only to help. You didn't want help. You only wanted a hand-out. Sorry I did not understand that. I would have left well enough alone if I did.

ehhhhhhhhhhhhh where did I call you a name? Unless "one of the moderators" is a "name"?

Every other member of this forum who downloads and uses Racoons patch above is also after a hand-out are they??? No, I think they are after help, which has been provided above.

you have an excellent workaround. solves the issues i have. i'll join the others in using this while waiting for an official patch from the core team. very well done @racoona.

That looks like a problem with Virtuemart. Looks like something has gone wrong with the more images hack/plugin.

Well that looks like a different problem then. I think this has been given a fix. Please check the 1.0.4 Upgrade thread.

The workaround didn't work for me :(

Any other ideas? (Or I'll simply have to wait)

Please use the attached file to replace interpreter.fireboard.inc.php.
This is a modified version of the current SVN 1.0 tree, which has additional fixes integrated and the current version of the video plugin.

It did not worked for me...it even got worse... now the words are close and did not separate from the quote... :(
Any fix? OR other idea is if we can't fix the box, why not at lease have it colored?
