
how can i write arabic in the subject???

Posted by Marshall - 2007/09/04 20:46

guys please i need to know how to write arabic in the topic subjects?

=====

Re:how can i write arabic in the subject???

Posted by TRIPLE M - 2007/09/13 09:59

Actually you can, but thats if you're using Arabic as your default language on your joomla website, then all you have to do is installing the Arabic for your FireBoard forum which I'm currently working on.

Note: You can download my Arabic FireBoard Alpha Version its suitable for Fireboard 1.0.3 Stable

Installation

01. Download the the zipped Arabic file below size=21794]http://up2d8.mhahost.info/files/j_fb_ar_alfa.zip
02. Extract it and upload the arabic.php file to your FireBoard language directory,
For Example;
http://www.yourwebsite.com/joomla/administrator/components/com_fireboard/language/
03. The Arabic language file is going to be automatically selected if Arabic is your Joomla's default language

Then its done, Tell me what you think

=====

Re:how can i write arabic in the subject???

Posted by Marshall - 2007/09/16 22:02

well 1st the link isn't working :/
2nd i am using English as my default language
& i just want to be able to write arabic in subjects & msgs dont want to translate my fireboard into arabic thanks :)

=====

Re:how can i write arabic in the subject???

Posted by TRIPLE M - 2007/09/17 00:05

well, in that case you can try downloading both Joomla English language file language/english.php and FirBoard English language file administrator/components/com_fireboard/language/english.php. Using NotePad change the file encoding into UTF-8 and save it.

=====

Re:how can i write arabic in the subject???

Posted by muhanad - 2008/01/06 05:39

hi .. i need the same thing so my question is how can i change the encoding into UTF-8 ?
n after doing that .. would my user have the option to right in english and arabic wouldnt that change cause me a problem

thanks alot

=====

