
extension to SEF Advance

Posted by CIAS - 2007/05/01 00:02

is there already scheduled an extension to SEF Advance?

That would be a great feature to fireboard! I asked Saka from Sakic.Net and his answer was "I don't think there is SEF extension for them but you would have to check with developers." ... What does you think about it?

regards ;)

I agree; I've used SEF Advance for quite a while now, and it has been the easiest, non-problematic SEF extension by far.

I'd also like to see an SEF extension for SEF Advance. :)

Hi guys, did you ask to the people at sef advance website? I think they could do something there. If many ask then they will do something there.

Look at the first post of this thread: "I asked Saka from Sakic.Net and his answer was "I don't think there is SEF extension for them but you would have to check with developers.""

So, if developers don't answer, we have to wait, i think. My opinion is, that SEF Advance is used by many serious Joomla publishers (don't take "serious" to serious please ;)), who waited a long time for such a component like Fireboard. I think, Fireboard SEF Extension for SEF Advance is really important. And if developers say NO to it, then we have to contact Saka again, to ask, what to do now.

As i know, sef_ext.php for SEF Advance isn't very complicated to write. Saka offers a "how to" for it and if i understand correctly he offers also a new version of SEF Advance for free. So developers could use it for their own project, which would be very usefull for their search engine ranking. ;)

If i had enough knowings about php, i would do it myself. But i haven't. So PLEASE developers, have a look on it ... (perhaps there is somebody else, who could do this?)

kind regards

I don't want this thread to be lost so I hope you don't mind if I give it a bump. Anyone out there have the knowledge in PHP to write one up using the guides at Sakic.net?

Emir did mention that if there is enough interest in the product that he would be willing to write it himself. If you are interested in an SEF Advance extension for Fireboard, post in his forums to let him know!

Excellent work guys; your requests have paid off. Emir once again graces us with is time and work for an SEF component extension for our sites.

From Emir:

OK guys, I am persuaded. Smiley
Will begin working on it and let you know about the progress.

YES! Saka will make the SEF Advance sef_ext.php - that means wonderful googly URLs for Fireboard in near Future!
:laugh:

Thank you all for that! :kiss:

Emir gave us an update today, so I thought I'd share it here:

From Emir:

It is progressing. The main navigation URLs are done and look like:

<http://www.domain.com/forum/>
<http://www.domain.com/forum/category/>
<http://www.domain.com/forum/category/thread/>
<http://www.domain.com/forum/category/thread/6/12/>
<http://www.domain.com/forum/post/reply/9/8/>
<http://www.domain.com/forum/post/edit/0/8/33/>
<http://www.academia.ba/forum/rules/> etc.

TODO are plugins like Userlist and Latest posts with their navigations and user profiles.

As soon as I think I'm done I will post a beta for you to test.

Once again he proves to provide excellent support for his product, which IMO, is flawless.

Yes, i agree 100%. And in other times, i would cry HURRA now, but the license-news from joomla-core-team sounds very bad to me. I'm not sure, that under these conditions professional work based on joomla is usefull to me for the future. :(

best wishes
