For big forums, is a invaluable tool to be able to check from your profile, as we do with topics, forums

For example on a car site, you can have a lot of subforums for each brand and model and just be interested on the one you own...

Being able to access with a direct click on profile instead to have to browse on having to do five click for, for example, 4x4>Manual traction>Mitsubishi>Outlander>Customization, is unvaluable.

Anyone have an idea on how to do this?

Thanks!
