Added a new gallery folder with images and the folder was available from the drop down but when I choose my new gallery it gave me a Server not found error message. What have I left out?

It should be as simple as entering the /avatars folder. Creating a new folder and upload your new avatars in them. Maybe its a bug

Yes me too, I've added 2 new folders inside the avatars folder and in the Forum at My Avatar the drop down shows

Default Gallery

Actors

Musicians

when I click on Actors or Musicians it takes me back to the Forum home page?

Any ideas how to correct this?

Hello. I'm having an issue with the avatar gallery, too.

If I make a new folder inside: /components/com_fireboard/avatars/gallery and then go to profile in the board and choose new avatar - I cannot choose the other folders I created inside the gallery. The folders don't show up in the list at all.

If I put the new avatar folder here: /images/fbfiles/avatars/gallery/newavatarfolder - it shows up, but if I choose it and click go I get kicked out of the forum to the site's index page.

I compared the code to pull up images from the gallery on two different sites and this is what I see:

code from site not working:

(I have to space out some of the code as it wasn't showing up even using the code function here) if (gallery == (double quotes here - it wouldn't work with the code function))

return;
```

location.href = "index.php?option=com_fireboard& amp; Itemid=33& amp; func=uploadavatar& amp; gallery="+gallery; space was added in between the ampersand and the abbreviation amp with a semi-colon. It won't print right here.

code from site working:

if (gallery == (double quotes))

return;
```

```
location.href = "index.php?option=com_fireboard & amp;Itemid=131&func=uploadavatar&gallery="+gallery;

space was added in between the ampersand and the abbreviation amp with a semi-colon because it won't print right here.

Where is this code kept so I can pull it up as it seems the one not working has added & instead of just the & to the code and maybe that's where it's messing up? Also - it happens with the Itemid as well. One is 33 & amp ; func and the one that's working is simply 131 & func. Is this what's messing up the gallery chooser?

hi, did you find any solution for this? i tried to configure the code as you have told above but i am lost in files, can't find the place of it (it should be in a function in a js file as far as i could understood) same thing happens to me when i add a new gallery, it just goes to homepage. i would appreciate if you could reply :) thanks :)

EDIT:

Found the file, and changed the line as above. It worked! Here is the file:

components/com_fireboard/template/default/plugin/myprofile/myprofile_avatar_upload.php

Couldn't find with Windows search by the way. It drove me mad :) Finally I have categories in my gallery :) Thanks for the above tip by the way. ;)
