
Expanding Forum Help?

Posted by jujubee33 - 2008/04/03 06:47

I've browsed these forums before and am currently making a site for a few friends.

The issue is that I want the forums to appear in a new page and take up the entire page (no template or module to be seen).

That is what I have so far. The forum is there, but so is the template behind it. Is there any way to change this? If not, I can work with how it is.
