
Rocketthemes are not from Rocketthemes ?

Posted by Benny - 2008/04/15 15:06

All the time i thought , that Rocketthemes build their templates by themself. But now i found this Wesite from a young Webdesigner in Brazil. <http://www.rafaelpaiva.com.br/>

And now, i dont know what i should think about that ??

Is this Webdesigner a thief or is he working for "less" money for Rocketthemes.

I´m a little bit frustrated, because i think that Rafael from Brazil is working for less money and Rocketthemes is selling their templates for big cash.

What do you think, guys??

I could care less. Everybody's ripping off everybody. Why should it bother YOU?

Maybe you should take that up with Rocket Themes?

Then by all means do so. Then if it's learned that the artist is ripping RT off what then?

THAT would explain a whole LOT!!! Especially since he has the RocketThemes name plastered all over everything. I think if he was a thief he would be a pretty poor one to leave all the identifying marks all over the place. I saw this earlier while I was at work. Possibly if you went past the first page you would have realized that.

Rafael was a designer at RocketTheme and helped us create several of our templates. We gave him permission to use the designs he worked on during his tenure with us in his portfolio as we all still good friends.
